German Report Says Artillery Batteries Shells Leningrad—Fires Started

(BULLETIN)

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—Capture of Kramatorskaja in the rich Donetz basin region, one of the largest automobile manufacturing centers in the USSR, was announced by the German high command today.

A war communique issued by Chancellor Hitler's military headquarters said Hungarian forces took other important industrial centers on the southern Russian front.

"Operations in other sectors are progressing favorably," the war bulletin stated.

Advance Continues

Authorities in Berlin said the German advance in the Donetz basin was continuing over difficult terrain and that the "struggle for Rostov impends."

On the central front, they declared, slight improvement in weather conditions accelerated operations.

Meanwhile, the Luftwaffe resumed heavy raids on the rear Russian lines all along the front and was said to be "dispensing closed columns of troops wherever they are encountered."

Berlin authorities also commented they had not yet seen any signs that Premier Josef Stalin's shake-up in the Russian high command had produced a noticeable rally.

Military authorities in Berlin announced today that heavy German artillery batteries yesterday shelled military objectives in Leningrad, causing numerous huge fires.

The big German guns also were credited with knocking out of action the batteries at the Russian naval base of Kronstadt.

President Declares Shooting Has Started; Reveals Hitler's Plans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The drums of war rolled across the United States today in the wake of the most militant speech an American president ever made in peacetime—a speech in which Franklin D. Roosevelt declared "the shooting has started," the U. S. battle fleet already is in action in the Atlantic, and "we Americans have cleared our decks and taken our battle stations."

The president, in a fighting navy day broadcast, had offered the entire western hemisphere new provocation to join in "the destruction of Hitlerism," and suggested publicly the broad strategy whereby this major task might be accomplished.

Outline Hitler's Designs

Placed before the American public by Mr. Roosevelt were two secret documents that have fallen into U. S. government hands outlining Hitler's "entire design of a new world order."

One contemplates subdivision by the German war machine of South and Central America into "five vassal states," one of which will include "the republic of Panama and our great life line, the Panama canal."

The other Nazi aim reported by the president envisages abolition of

"President Roosevelt's challenge to Hitler cannot be ignored. 'Soon American warships and merchantmen may be seen in our ports.'"

And the London Evening News said:

"President Roosevelt called on his countrymen for one more step along the road that the inexorable logic of events is drawing them."

KUIBYSHEV, U. S. S. R., Oct. 28.—Russian forces launched a massive tank attack toward Kalinin on the northwest sector of the Moscow front today while other sections of the capital's defense are being reported holding firm against violent Nazi assaults.

The Russian army newspaper Red Star at the same time reported that Stormoviks (dive-bombers) on the Moscow front have destroyed 235 German tanks and 357 trucks in the past days.

Latest dispatches from the war zone indicated the new Russian counterpunch was a strong one and said some of the Soviet tanks already had reached the city, situated 110 miles northwest of beleaguered Moscow.

Upset German Plans

Russian authorities claimed the bold thrust had upset German plans to use Kalinin as a supply depot.

Meanwhile, they admitted the important Ukrainian stronghold of Kharkov is in danger.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Enactment of the administration bill to arm ships and repeal the combat zone restrictions of the neutrality act will plunge the nation into war in 60 days, Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio, asserted today as momentous senate debate entered its second day.

"This bill puts us in a naval war," said Taft. "They usually are inconclusive, and troops usually follow. Sixty days after this bill passes, we will be in war."

Forecast 50 Votes

Taft sought to stem the administration tide in the senate for the bill. With an incomplete poll showing 39 sure votes for the bill, leaders said a swing of absentees and doubtful members would swell the vote above 50.

Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., bitter foe of the Roosevelt foreign policy frankly conceded that opponents of the bill face an uphill fight. He predicted that a vote will be reached in 10 days to two weeks.

The report reached London from undisclosed American sources.

A spokesman for the prisoners of war department of the war office said:

A similar report concerning Hess circulated some two months ago, but at that time best available information indicated he was still in England.

New Castle's Halloween parade—and street mardis gras—should outshine all local mummers' celebrations of the past 20 years, those planning the celebration plans for Friday night, declared today.

Weather, of course, will determine the measure of its success, but with a good weather break, the downtown festival will give the city a night long to be remembered.

The parade of the costumed hosts will take the spotlight, naturally, but the street dance—along the whole of North Mercer street between North and Falls—will add considerably to the merriment.

Working side by side to put the big show over are the merchant groups in all sections of the city. Dependable committees have shouldered the task of seeing to it that prizes—merchandise and cash—and the hundreds of other details are handled to a tee.

The mardis gras will be something new. For the first time in years, a downtown block will be roped off as a gay outdoor ballroom, with a 14-piece all-brass orchestra furnishing melodious strains.

Fifteen Miners Given Up For Dead

Kentucky Mine Blast Traps 15

Thirty-Six Men Are Able To Escape From Mine After Explosion

MAKESHIFT PLAN USED TO RESCUE 36

DANIEL BOONE, Ky., Oct. 28. The explosion-wrecked Sterling Coal company's mine outside Boone today for 15 miners trapped several hours underground when the blast closed the mine's only entrance.

Rescue crews entered far enough into the workings last night to ascertain that all the miners were dead, but because of dangerous conditions within the mine no effort was made to remove the bodies.

The dead were identified as Albert Keys, Will Compton, Bert Cunningham, Robert Joyce, Gus Pryor, Goldy Gamblin, Ike Whitefield, Dan Pearson, Edgar Adams, Noley Todd, Junior Gamblin, Opey Wells, Otha Sisk, Benny Martin and Robert Dunning.

A mass inquest was scheduled for today at nearby Nortonville. Members of the rescue crews said 11 bodies were found in one spot, close together, while the four others lay some distance away. It was not certain whether the deaths had been caused by concussion at the time of the explosion, or by deadly "black damp" which immediately filled the workings.

The explosion occurred yesterday morning and 36 men were saved when a barrel was lowered down a 90-foot air shaft, permitting the 36 to be raised one by one in the makeshift elevator.

Efforts to reach the other men were stymied by the presence of the mine gas. A canary was lowered into the shaft before any rescue workers were permitted to enter, and it was overcome within four minutes.

Professional mine rescuers and volunteers donned gas masks, and 30 men engaged in the futile life-saving effort before the bodies were discovered.

Cause of the blast was not definitely known, but mine officials expressed belief a coal dust explosion had occurred.

COMBAT ZONE REPEAL MEANS WAR SAYS TAFT

and rights on the high seas, administration leaders called upon Sen. George (D) Ga., former chairman of the foreign relations committee to lead the day's debate for the bill as President Roosevelt called for quick action on the measure in his militant Navy Day speech.

Connally Jubilant

Sen. Connally (D) Texas, chairman of the foreign relations committee and leader in charge of the bill, was jubilant over prospects for an early vote and a decisive victory. "These isolationists are weakening and we will pass the bill easily," he said. "They know we must do it for our own defense."

Wheeler said that "there is a possibility of beating the provision to send our ships into danger zones," but added, "I doubt if we can beat the provision for arming ships."

"The majority does not have its heart in this legislation, because many senators will have to reverse stands they have taken, to vote for the bill," he said.

"Lead To War"
"I have been surprised at some senators who tell me they are against the bill. The thing I am afraid of is that if you send armed ships carrying munitions into British ports it would seem inevitable that it will lead to war. We are not ready for war. We haven't the trained men, the guns or the ships to transport an A. E. F."

Sen. Thomas (D) Okla., declaring himself in favor of repealing the ban on American ships carrying munitions to belligerent ports, declared that the nation must pass the legislation or concede that "we are afraid, bluffed or overpowered."

If it requires war, there will have to be war," he added. "I say this on the theory that there are things more terrible than war."

If Hitler wins the war, he said the United States will cease to be a factor in trade on three continents.

Despite the admitted far-reaching character of the legislation, the senate appeared less disturbed than it was in the battle over the original lend-lease act.

Foreign affairs issues have been debated so often, both in and out of congress, that members appeared to have little interest in prolonging the fight.

WOMAN REMOVED TO HOSPITAL BY FIREMEN

Mrs. J. W. Goodrich, of 402 Bell avenue, who was taken ill last evening at her home, was removed to the New Castle hospital in the mobile unit of the New Castle Fire Department Rescue Corps on the advice of a doctor. She was in an unconscious condition.

Mme. Otto Goldschmidt, Swedish soprano, was known as Jenny Lind, the Swedish Nightingale.

PRESIDENT DECLARES SHOOTING STARTED

all existing religion, substituting the words of "Mein Kampf" for the holy Bible in such fashion that "in place of the cross of Christ will be put two symbols—the swastika and the naked sword."

"We have wished to avoid shooting," President Roosevelt told the world. "But the shooting has started, and history has recorded who fired the first shot. In the long run, however, all that will matter is who fired the last shot."

Arm American Ships

The Roosevelt strategy for bringing Germany to her knees was a repetition of successful tactics in 1917-18. He called upon Congress to waste no time in arming American ships and opening now restricted combat zones because "it is the nation's will that America shall deliver the (war) goods" to Britain, Russia and their allies.

"Stop Hitler," demanded the president. "He can be stopped and compelled to dig in. And that will be the beginning of the end of his downfall, because the Hitler type can live only through continuing victories—increasing conquests."

"The facts of 1918 are proof that a mighty German army and a tired German people can crumble rapidly and go to pieces when they are faced with successful resistance."

Greater Production

Immediate key to the situation is more and more production from American assembly lines—including the coal mines over which United Mine Workers Chief John L. Lewis holds sway—to meet "the colossal task" of arming not only the U. S. Army and Navy, but the physically fighting forces of Britain, Russia and China as well, declared the president.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, (D), Mont., leader of the congressional non-interventionist forces, was one of the few White House opponents to make comment while the president's fighting words were still being broadcast around in every major language.

"If what the president said is true," Wheeler said shortly, "he ought to ask Congress for a declaration of war and not get the United States to go to the back door. Of course he knows we are not prepared for war."

Anticipates Critics

The president had anticipated his critics, however, in biting language that suggested whatever they might say was being eagerly awaited by the Axis press and radio for the purpose of distorting true American sentiment.

The protestations of these American citizens—few in number—will, as usual, be paraded with applause through the Axis press and radio during the next few days," predicted Mr. Roosevelt, "in an effort to convince the world that the majority of Americans are opposed to their duly chosen government, and in reality are only waiting to jump on Hitler's bandwagon when it comes this way."

"The Nazis have made up their own list of modern American heroes," he added with scorn. "It is, fortunately, a short list. I am glad that it does not contain my name."

To Destroy Religion

Revealing Berlin's aspirations to conquer the new world and destroy existing religion, the president declared: "I have in my possession a secret map made up in Germany by Hitler's government—by the planners of the new world order. It is a map of South America and a part of Central America, as Hitler proposes to reorganize it. Today in this area there are fourteen separate countries. The geographical experts of Berlin, however, have ruthlessly obliterated all existing boundary lines; and have divided South America into five vassal states, bringing the whole continent under their domination. And they have also arranged it that the territory of one of these new puppet states includes the republic of Panama and our great life line—the Panama canal."

"It will never go into effect. Your government has in its possession another document made in Germany by Hitler's government. It is a detailed plan, which, for obvious reasons, the Nazis did not and do not wish to publicize just yet, but which they are ready to impose on a dominated world—if Hitler wins. It is a plan to abolish all existing religions—Protestant, Catholic, Mohammedan, Hindu, Buddhist and Jewish alike. The property of all churches will be seized by the Reich. The cross and all other symbols of religion are to be forbidden. The clergy are to be liquidated, silenced under penalty of the concentration camps, where even now so many fearless men are being tortured because they placed God above Hitler."

PA NEW OBSERVES

New Castle officials will be elected, as well as two state judges. Most of the work being done by party members in the final week will be in an effort to get out the vote. At the present time indications are for a light vote.

This is parade week in Lawrence county. On Thursday night Ellwood will be center of the stage with its Americanism procession, while on Friday night New Castle is arranging for a huge halloween parade. The New Castle celebration will be a joint effort of all parts of the city. It will be the only halloween parade this year.

A religious Christmas card sent on December 15 last year, to Great Britain to a relative of a local woman, was discovered never to have reached its destination, it being returned to the sender in New Castle here, recently.

Somebody had a "spill" on the bridge on South Jefferson street Monday about noon apparently, for all that pedestrians could see for a space of about a block on the main thoroughfare, was squash, corn, and other vegetables, scattered around as though same had fallen off a produce truck.

A lot of goals are set, but a new one has been reached by Charles Chambers, age 79, Miller avenue resident, who is soon to celebrate his eightieth birthday anniversary, having prepared a 1000 bushel of corn in 25 days. Mr. Chambers, who resides with his daughter, Miss Mary Chambers, is quite active in spite of his advanced years, and has been working on the William McComb farm, husking corn.

POLICE AND GUNMEN BATTLE AT TIMES SQUARE

Kablonsky. Another detective rushed down to the desk to ask if Kablonsky had come into the hotel and was told that he had come in with another man.

While two detectives guarded Kablonsky and Kovner, having already taken guns out of a dresser drawer in Kovner's room, a third detective began search of the hotel corridors. He saw Bitler hiding in an alcove and he and the gunman opened fire simultaneously.

Detective Levine, running into the corridor, was struck by one of the bullets and in the confusion, Bitler got away.

An emergency squad of police had arrived meanwhile and threw floodlights on the Abbey and the adjoining Hotel Victoria while police probed the corridors and public rooms.

Search for Bitler led into the Victoria and here Ortman was wounded when he looked out a window to see what was going on and was shot by Bitler who, running up a fire escape, apparently took him for a pursuer.

The harassed gunman finally was found crouched under a table in the banquet room of the Victoria but as the police called on him to surrender he shouted "you cops will never take me alive" and with an oath turned his gun on himself, the bullet entering his head. He died three hours later.

'CAPTIVE MINE' STRIKE WILL HIT STEEL PRODUCTION

ern Pennsylvania, almost 2000 coke ovens already were banked, steel-owned mine properties without exception were shut down and all eyes were on Washington for the next move between John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, and President Roosevelt.

Representatives of the steel industry was the coal stock situation of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., operating subsidiary of "big steel." Outside its Clairton by-products plant, which supplies coke and by-products gas for all the corporations' mills in this district, lay a mountain of soft coal.

"I should last about two weeks," a company spokesman estimated. Lacking coke, steel's blast furnaces must be banked. And if allowed to get cold, a week to ten days is required before they can resume normal operations, this informant pointed out.

INVADERS CAN'T FACE BOMBERS

IF THIS country takes advantage of the defensive powers given it by the bombing plane, it can never be invaded, according to Lieutenant Colonel Thomas R. Phillips of the U. S. Army General Staff Corps in an article in The Reader's Digest condensed from Army Ordnance.

The most important fact to be learned from the European War, says Lt. Col. Phillips, is that "land-based air power has made the United States impregnable to sea-borne invasion. And by building a suitable air-base and airways system we can insure the impregnability of all North and South America."

Citing the examples of Norway, Crete, Scapa Flow, Malta and Libya, the writer says, "The war has shown conclusively that air power dominates sea power in narrow seas and near coasts," and we will be invasion-proof "if we have, as we shall have, always in the future thousands of bombers ready to be concentrated for the defense of any point along all our coasts."

CUT WHITE HOUSE FORMAL RECEPTIONS

Mrs. Roosevelt's cancellation of the entire winter program of formal White House entertainment will disappoint Washington tradesmen and several thousand persons, official and otherwise, who delight in such more or less mass parties. A Cabinet dinner, or a dinner for the Supreme Court, can be a delightful occasion for the rare unofficial guest.

Even a large musicale, with some of Mrs. Roosevelt's earnest Indian or folk-tune trimmings, has its compensations. But a Congressional reception, where a couple of thousands people wait to shake the Presidential hand, is a real test of the democratic process being worked out in the East Room. And what a workout that is.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt are among the most gregarious and the most hospitable of Presidential families. The Hoovers were like that, too, and also the Hardings. White House entertaining will not stop, but it will be more fun for the host and hostess, who can choose their guests according to personal taste instead of according to the United States Official Register.

Mrs. Roosevelt says that her informal parties will not be planned, will "just happen." As everyone knows, parties that "just happen" are often the best parties of all. At all events, there'll be no mass production of boiled shirts and sequins at the White House this winter, which can be set down as one of the few good results of this war.

LEARNING MORE ABOUT US

Inspired by a belief that the average Englishman, including many of good education, has at best a sketchy and inaccurate understanding of American life, culture and history, the British Board of Education has taken steps to overcome the condition.

Chief among these is the forthcoming publication of a series of illustrated pamphlets. These will include a brief historical survey of America from early days, biographies of great men, the story of the South, its cotton and tobacco; of California, its fruits, films, bombers and other material.

British educators say frankly that most of their fellow countrymen are aware that George Washington is a man who never told a lie and Abraham Lincoln another great American who freed the slaves. But that lets them off.

The chief purpose of this educational program is to inform British opinion better about the "cavalcade of America," because of prevailing British belief that the United States will play a leading part in world affairs after the war.

As a matter of fact, American educational circles face a task here at home in promoting a more fervent and clear-cut understanding of this country and what it stands for, among millions of American school children.

Our history is taught in our schools, but there is some basis for fear that this instruction has too long been somewhat perfunctory in many classrooms.

BIRDS IN BILLIONS

Who, possessing a grassplot or a stretch of lawn, does not look forward to the unfailing visit of the first robin? And many persons have wondered, at one time or another, how there could be enough robins to go round, a thought that brings up the question of the total number of birds in given neighborhood and in the entire United States.

The first bird census in the United States, conducted, as all such censuses must be, on a sectional basis, was made about 1900, about the time that similar observations were being undertaken in the British Isles. Such censuses have been continued, at frequent intervals, since that time.

Of these the general observation has been made that available British results, while accurate and complete, are few, while American results are more copious but less reliable. At all events, ornithologists have reached the conclusion, from all available figures, that the bird populations of Europe and North America are similar and that the average over large areas is from one to four birds per acre.

Now Roger T. Peterson, educational director of the National Audubon Society, at the annual convention of that group in New York, hazards the opinion that the bird population of the United States is 8,750,000,000. Mr. Peterson has been at work on this problem for about six years. On the basis of four birds per acre, which some ornithologists thought was about right, simple mathematics gave a total of 7,612,866,560 birds, which Mr. Peterson felt was high.

After due allowance for the enthusiasm of census takers, their natural preference for selecting choice areas, rich in bird life and other factors, Mr. Peterson now emerges with his figure of 5,750,000,000 birds. That is forty-four birds for every man, woman and child in the United States.

The Peterson estimate is going to arouse considerable discussion among experts. The average suburbanite, awakened by a concert outside his window, will undoubtedly contend that the higher figure is the more nearly accurate.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

GIRL REBELS AT RIGID RULE

I receive a great many letters similar to the following and I am always puzzled over how to answer them well. But I do answer them personally as I answered this one. Here is the letter and my reply:

"Dear Dr. Myers:—I am 17 years old. My mother is dead, so my father and I live together. He was born in a foreign country and is about 62 years old.

"He will not allow me to go out with boys and explained, very emphatically, his reasons why. He said that anyone my age should not be seen on the street after dark. He says that no boy that age knows his own mind or his future. He thinks going out is something immoral, and any boy who would take a girl out is immoral, and that any boy who would take a girl out is 'good-for-nothing.'"

"If I come home after 10:00 or 10:30 he locks the door and will not allow me to come into the house. He is also very suspicious of me—even when I go out with girls. Every time I come home I am put on a routine quiz by him. Some of the questions he asks me are: 'Where have you been? Who did you go with?' I suppose these were boys with you?' and 'Who brought you home?'

Girl's Serious Problem

"I do not think this wrong, because I think every parent has a right to know more or less, where his children spend their time, but after each of these questions we have an argument. He thinks I do the worst things anyone could do. He thinks I would go to all kinds of road houses and such, but I don't because the crowd I go around with is not at all kind."

"Of course, I do not agree with him about not going on dates, and would like to have good times like my friends do. We argue very frequently about this matter and I would appreciate it very much if you could offer me some suggestions on how to present my point of view to him in a convincing way. He reads your column in the paper and favors very highly your opinions. Enclosed is a stamped self-addressed envelope for this purpose."

The Doctor's Reply

I have read your letter with great sympathy, for I understand the problem you are facing. Any 17-year-old in your place would feel as you do. On the other hand, most fathers with your father's upbringing are gravely concerned about protecting a motherless daughter. He probably had a strict background himself.

You hope to win your father. You cannot do it by arguing. You might, however, succeed with quiet love. When he lays down the law to you, say nothing back. Let him talk. Wait till a later time when you and he are calm and quiet and you can be complete master of yourself.

Lean backwards to comply with his wishes but gradually win him to be more lenient. Let him know that you realize how eager he is to protect you. Try to get him to put himself in your place. Prove to him in all sorts of ways, and not with words, that he can trust you. Before you go out tell him where you expect to be. When you return, do not wait for his questioning to tell of your good times. Invite boys to your house. Coach them to show proper deference to Dad.

When you go out with one, return on the time you had agreed upon beforehand. Hope to win his consent to later hours very gradually, say half an hour at a time and be sure to stick to your agreement. I believe you can win Dad in this way. But you must exercise great love and patience. Best wishes to you."

Answer: Since you are a neophyte they will probably take you under their wing and show you "the ropes." Answer: I suggest ivory Venetian blinds, green and gold brocade draperies, a green occasional chair, as well as another chair—possibly bar-shaped with an ivory background and figures harmonizing with the rest of your room. End tables at each end of your sofa with a pair of matching lamps will be very attractive. Your rug might be grey taupe. Answer: Anything that might be classed as lingerie—clips, nightgowns, bedjackets, housecoats, negligees, pajamas and even stockings.

As well as a feller suppose?

To see the best in him.
And tell a feller, so that a feller
Feels like SOME feller, by jim!

A feller should never judge a feller
Through another feller's eyes.
But meet that feller, feller to feller,
And get his heft and size.

That we fine fellers thought
Let's give that feller a better chance
To be the feller he ought.

For I tell you, fellers, some fellers
Have
A cussider time than we dream—
While we may always catch the tide
They must always pull upstream.

There ain't no feller knows it all.

But maybe we fellers need such fellers
As such fellers need us too.

Economic War On Axis To Be Speeded
State Department Reorganized For It
Work For Economic Peace At War's End

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Secretary Cordell Hull's recent thorough reorganization of his state department had immediately in view an increase in its efficiency as an agency of economic warfare. Uncle Sam's cabinet premier wasn't unkind, however, of the importance of getting his staff on its toes to jump hot-footedly into the job of insuring permanent worldwide economic peace the minute the present war's over.

Without international economic peace, he holds that no other kind of lasting peace is possible.

Speakers at our National Foreign Trade Council's New York convention, a short time ago, generally agreed with him. Producers in countries like the United States, where there's a huge demand for their commodities, wanting to keep foreign competition out of their home markets, mostly yowl for high tariffs, to keep importations at a minimum. Members of the Foreign Trade Council, though, are anxious for all the customers they can get abroad. They're conscious that foreigners can't buy from us unless we buy from them, so tariff walls are very repugnant to 'em.

President Eugene P. Thomas, of the FTC at its New York convention, referred pretty bitterly to our restrictive commercial policies following the last war, as provocative of today's strife and as bad for business in the meantime. He complained also of England, which is too small an island to have vast quantities to export in any great quantity, but which does have its overseas possessions to draw from, and which has, he asserted, shaped its international trading agreements in a fashion to hamper other countries' foreign salesmanship to Britain's advantage. It wasn't a particularly timely talk, at a juncture when we're so closely aligned with the British, but it was expressive of his association's ideas.

State Undersecretary Sumner Welles was on hand, too. He didn't slam Britain (too diplomatic probably) but he did mention the "villain's part" played by American protectionists in raising trade barriers in the 1920's.

Regardless of criticisms of the United States and the British for their respective policies that time, it was the consensus that they'll have to pull together for world trade's benefit the instant the current muss ends, otherwise it won't stay ended.

It'll be essentially up to Uncle Sam and John Bull to fix things, spokesmen said, because those two between 'em, control approximately (Continued On Page Six)

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois warns that unless the "elemental forces of evil" in the world are destroyed, civilization itself faces destruction.

"We know that as long as we believe in the gospel of tolerance, and in man's humanity to man, we shall achieve the supreme task of the present day—the task of defeating the greatest onslaught against human liberty the whole world has ever known."

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt urges speedy action on enactment of federal price control legislation.

"It would seem better, perhaps, to protect the worker from a rising cost of living, not only through control of the price of foodstuffs but through some kind of rental control than appeal to his democratic patriotism for a voluntary stabilizing agreement."

TOKYO—General Hideki Tojo, Japan's premier, points out that for his nation there is no retreat.

"If the policy to which Japan is committed is to be enforced in the face of opposition, the first requisite is to develop the total strength of our people, using their momentum in the prosecution of that policy."

DETROIT — Secretary of Navy Frank Knox praises the cooperation of labor and management in defense industries.

"Of the millions of people working for national defense progress less than one per cent have been interrupted by strikes and disputes."

AUTUMN THOUGHT

When all the trees are red and gold
And morning winds are chill,
When all is lovely to behold
Of orchard, field and hill,
With beauty everywhere to see,
How proud Old Mother Earth must be!

Without regret she ends the year,
Her labors all complete,
All things are as she'd have them here,
And strewn about her feet,
Her grain and vine and orchard trees,
Fulfill their normal destinies.

And gives his work to fire,
In violence to dust he blows

The World and the Mud Puddles

TO THE LAST DEGREE

Some twenty-two million voters of these United States voted for Wendell Wilkie in the last Presidential election. Perhaps many of these voters voted as they did not because of their desire to vote for Wendell Wilkie, but to vote against Franklin Roosevelt. There are many people in this country who dislike all of the policies of Franklin Roosevelt and their dislike goes even so far as to dislike the man himself, his wife, his children, even his dog.

As an example of this feeling, a woman of my acquaintance is possessed of a Scottie and she sets great store by this dog. She thinks he is the finest dog in the world. She spent several months away from home and when she returned, she thought the Scottie should have the attention of a barber and, among other things, particularly, she thought she would have the dog's ears trimmed. She changed her mind, however, when two strangers called at her house to obtain some information about a fire that had happened in the neighborhood. These men admired the Scottie very much and one of them said, "I think they are so cute when they are left rough. I see pictures of the President's dog, and his coat is left just that way."

That as a red rag for the owner of the Scottie, and she determined the manner in which she would treat Scottie's coat immediately for she sent the dog to the barber the very next day and in telling about it she said, "I figured, Scottie is a Republican, but if he is not, he has always kept still about it."

That is carrying an adverse opinion of the President and all his works to the end of the road. I think it is an instance that is worthy of comment, because it does show the ly half of the whole earth's international trade, and, in partnership, they probably can get away with it.

All the same, Secretary Hull's reorganization aims at improved economic warfare against the Axis while the current rumpus continues.

The department has had, of course, a lot of separate divisions, specializing on as many different lines of activity. They're overlapped, though. All the other departments are similarly split into their various groups and similarly, among themselves, overlapping.

Morever, there's been no cohesion as between the departments.

Secretary Hull's attempt is to eliminate his own internal overlapping and, at the same time, to contact his groups with the other department's appropriate groups.

That they'll succeed in doing it is far more than problematic. Even if Cordell has his bunch correctly sorted out, how are his subdivisions to determine which is which among the other department's unclassified outfits?

Mix-up Terrific
It's theoretically the correct system, to be sure. Its weakness is that one department's trying to tackle it alone. It ought to be undertaken from overhead, including all of 'em, plus all the independent agencies that don't belong to any department especially. The Washington mix-up is terrific.

Cordell's principal parcel is his department's Board of Economic Operations, with Assistant State Secretary Dean Acheson as chairman. His task is to make life as economically miserable as possible for the Axis until Her Hitler and Signor Mussolini are on the scrap heap, and then to get busy, overnight, at the creation of world-wide economic harmony.

LONDON PAPERS JUBILANT OVER F. D. R. SPEECH

reports of the American chief executive's address, the headlines focused on his statement that the United States has taken its "battle stations."

"Clears Decks For Action"

One headline read:

"United States Clears The Decks For Action."

British authorities received the address with utmost gratification despite the lack of immediate official comment.

Authorities said that "in accordance with precedent" there would be no immediate official comment on the address, but that a leading member of the cabinet such as Prime Minister Winston Churchill or Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden might "make reference to it at the earliest opportunity."

One spokesman privately expressed the opinion that "it appears severance of diplomatic relations between the United States and the Nazis is imminent."

London newspapers splashed accounts of the president's address across their front pages. An eight-column headline in the London Daily Express said:

"Full Speed Ahead"

"Roosevelt says shooting has started; Hitler's torpedo at Kearny fired at every American, but damn the torpedoes—full speed ahead!"

C. V. R. Thompson, New York correspondent of the Express who now is in London, wrote in a front-page article:

"The speech made it bluntly clear that congressional approval of F. D. R.'s demands for complete repeal of the neutrality act can be tantamount to a declaration of war against Hitler."

Thompson wrote that "logically and legally, President Roosevelt led the American people last night to the brink of peace." He added:

"His words—had the sound of a war oration."

"For the president there now can be no turning back. So there can be no turning back for the American people without disaster and chaos."

"There won't be an expeditionary force but unless the inconceivable happens—and it will not—America will soon be in name as well as in fact in the war."

The British Broadcasting Corporation, meanwhile, made sweeping arrangements to disseminate President Roosevelt's address by short wave throughout the world in 42 languages and dialects.

Miners Return Despite Pickets

Hundred Twenty-Eight Enter Captive Mine Near Johnstown Despite Lewis' Order

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 28.—Picket lines failed today to stop 128 men from entering the Rosedale workings of Bethlehem Steel Corporation's captive mine nearby where rebellious members of the United Mine Workers union launched a back-to-work movement.

The pickets, 160 strong, remained silent as their fellow-workers walked through their lines, in complete disregard to UMW President John L. Lewis' instructions to halt operations at all captive workings.

Police described the whole thing as very orderly.

Another reported back-to-work movement at nearby Franklin which was to have gotten underway this morning, failed to materialize.

Since the normal day shift at the Rosedale pit runs about 700 men belief was expressed that not enough men returned this morning to operate the mine.

The miners, members of Local 6411, held a turbulent three-hour meeting yesterday, and failed to take another vote on the back-to-work question. Previously, they had voted against striking by an overwhelming majority.

James Mark, president of District 2, charged that this meeting was dominated by former company union members.

Total philatelic value of all stamps in the possession of collectors and dealers in the United States alone is estimated at about $225,000,000.

Leaves On Oak Trees At Gaston Park Turn Contrasting Colors

At Gaston park, there are two young white oak trees, with trunks about two inches in diameter, growing within about eight feet of one another.

The leaves of one tree, are turning from green to yellow, and the leaves of the other, are already quite red.

Owen Fox states that Carotene pigment in the ground is responsible for the leaves in the first tree turning yellow. This pigment also causes the yellow to appear in corn, carrots and squashes.

The bright red color that appears in the other oak is caused by a pigment called Anthocyanins being in the ground.

Later on, when the trees become drab, the changing pigment becomes tannins.

During the early part of this fall, when the weather was so dry, states Mr. Fox, these pigments did not have the proper opportunity to function, due to lack of rain necessary to moisten the pigments carried from the ground by the roots, into the trees.

Because of this, the leaves have not been as brilliant as in former years, but he says that it is noticed since the late rains much brilliance has been added to those trees that are still in leaf.

Dr. Sasserman To Speak Thursday

Will Address "Regional School Of Evangelism" In New Castle

IRA S. SASSERMAN, D. D.

Dr. Ira S. Sasserman and General Secretary Walter E. Myers, who will be at the First Baptist church of New Castle afternoon and evening next Thursday, October 30, represent the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association and the International Council of Religious Education and are bringing a regional "school of evangelism" to New Castle. There are seven other cities in different parts of the state that are having similar schools.

The meeting for ministers is at 2 p. m., and writing to County President Robert M. Strickler, Jr., Dr. Sasserman states: "I am very anxious to speak to the ministers and pastors of our churches and hope all who can will come to the conference for ministers in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. Here is where the work of spiritual rejuvenation in our churches and schools must begin. You are likely making every effort to get them to attend. The success of the whole venture will very largely hinge on this one condition. Hence the importance."

The general afternoon session which is for church and Sunday school leaders and members, in fact all interested in evangelistic methods, will start at 3:30 p. m. The evening mass meeting will start at 7:30. Dr. Sasserman will speak at every session and the devotional leaders will be Rev. S. E. Irvine, Walter E. Myers, Rev. G. S. Bennett and Rev. Oliver W. Hurst as song leader. Mrs. W. H. Luikart will be organist and pianist.

Senior High Will Present Comedy

"Going On Seventeen" To Be Staged By Dramatics Department, November 6

Dramatics department of the senior high school begins its season of public performances on Thursday evening, November 6. The play chosen is a modern three-act comedy. It is Hilda Manning's "Going On Seventeen." Hilda Manning is the same playwright who wrote another comedy of adolescent capers and gaucheries recently produced with success at the senior high school, entitled "Hooray for Youth."

"Going On Seventeen" is, as its title suggests, eminently suited to a cast of high school actors. In the present play action moves quickly, the characters selected from different generations are authentic and the scene is an American home swarming with young people "going on seventeen" at their liveliest. The plot is a mystery story with a surprising solution revealed only with time enough for the audience to get its breath before the final curtain falls.

Miss Hartshoff's thespians are selected with customary care. They have been building up effects and exploring for stage properties for several weeks. "The play's the thing" in the big school on Lincoln avenue and those who have won the coveted roles attack their problem of amateur theatricals with an enthusiasm. Under expert coaching this enthusiasm at regular intervals through the year turns out public performances now have attained an established place in our city's entertainment program.

CONSIDERED SELFISH

It has just about gotten so in this part of the country that a man who attends to his own business is considered selfish.

EXTRA MONEY CAN BE INVESTED NOW

Farmers in this section with Land Bank mortgages have a chance to invest extra money at 3 1/2 per cent and at the same time protect their farms in the lean years that so often follow days of defense prosperity.

Called future payments, these are extra payments which are not applied on the mortgage until some future date when the farmer may be unable to meet his installment.

Mr. Miller recalled that during the last post-war depression nearly 50 per cent of the farms with mortgages were so delinquent that they were subject to foreclosure.

First United States national monument was Devil's Tower, an exposed volcanic cone in northeastern Wyoming, which was set apart in 1906.

A Personal Message To Motorists

CONCERNING THE

'42 FORD

W. A. FRANCIS
Francis Motor Sales Co.

SINCE OCTOBER 3rd when the 1942 Ford cars were introduced, many people in this community have seen them; checked and examined them thoroughly. Before buying, many have driven them and put them through severe tests.

We are publishing this advertisement to tell you that never before in this business have we heard such enthusiastic praise for new models... The reason is that by every comparison, the 1942 Ford is by far the best Ford car ever built—in our opinion, the most improved car of the year.

It is longer, lower, wider, more powerful and more responsive. It shifts, steers and brakes easier. It has greater total seating width—over nine feet. The ride is softer, quieter, and steadier. Its beauty, inside and out, has won warm praise from many who have seen it in our showrooms. And yes, the traditional Ford economy of operation has been retained in full measure.

Thus, we can tell you without the slightest reservation that while all defense requirements have been met, the basic and lasting mechanical goodness of Ford cars was never as high as it is today.

That is why we offer you the 1942 Ford with every assurance you will find in it better transportation for your money than ever before. That is why we say it will pay you to—

State Armory Is Being Used

Several Organizations Making Use Of National Guard Armory On East Side

From the staff on the grounds of Cunningham Armory, flies a beautiful new flag, the gift of the Armory Board.

The wall side boards have been removed in the drill hall, and the cement floor recently laid, adds to the appearance of the building.

In the stable, used by the cavalry, before the change into an artillery organization, the stall and floor boards have been removed, and the lumber has been taken to Rockview penitentiary.

The steel doors, which formerly swung in and up, have been changed, and now slide upward, giving more clearance for vehicles.

W. W. Orr, the custodian, has the armory and surrounding grounds looking in good shape.

Among the local organizations using the armory at present, is the Home Defense Company, Shenango High School and East New Castle Rifle Clubs, Rod and Gun Club, Coon Hunters Club.

* Ellwood City was one of the very first communities to notice recovery from this readjustment period.
* Ellwood City is, today, one of the most progressive industrial cities in the United States.
* Ellwood City has at the head of its industries men of fine whole-some civic interest, many of them men who began as boys in the ranks of the workers—steadily, through hard work and faithful application have advanced until they now occupy the executive positions.

* Ellwood City's municipal building is a credit to and evidence of our progressive spirit, beautiful and modern throughout.
* Ellwood City has a beautiful group of school buildings, well equipped and its faculty compares favorably with any city of its size.

Ellwood Preparing For New Brighton

Game Will Be Played Saturday Afternoon At Oak Hill Field

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 28.—For their only afternoon game of the season, the Ellwood high school football team will go to New Brighton on Saturday afternoon. It will be the last out-of-town journey for the locals who will end their season at home on the following Friday night with Beaver Falls high.

While the Oak Hillers have had a mediocre season, they have a good all around team that will require the best from the Wolverines if they are to get back into the winning column after last week's 20-12 defeat at Aliquippa.

New Brighton has defeated Sharpville, Beaver, Midland and Monaca, and lost to Ambridge, Butler and Rochester. At the same time, Ellwood has defeated Midland, Monaca, Rochester, and tied with Butler.

After several below par seasons, football hopes have soared with Coach George Roark back in the driver's seat. Roark piloted New Brighton teams to remarkable records during the thirties, and then left to coach for a short time at Westminster, after which he was head mentor at W. and J. for four years.

With only six lettermen back, Roark has moulded one of the strongest of the valley teams, and has had the added misfortune to have a number of the better players injured. New Brighton has a big line and several fast backs. Stand-out for the line are Zangus, right end, and Peluso, guard. Coach Croft regards Peluso as the best guard in the Beaver Valley. Reverses and off tackle plays are their main ground gainers.

Croft is devoting this week to tackling and blocking, a lack of which, along with slowness, he believes to be the cause of Ellwood's defeat last week.

The Ellwood Juniors go to Aliquippa Friday afternoon and will wind up the season at home on November 6 with Ambridge. Henry Helm, junior end, fractured a finger in the Beaver Falls game and will be out for the season. He is being replaced by Hangat, Glogowski and Konyak have recovered and will be ready to play.

Safer Driving On Dream Highway Is Urged By Auto Club

Keystone Auto Club Says
Most Drivers Not Equipped
For Excessive Speeds

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Safer driving practices on the part of the public could have prevented accident which marred the first year of operation of the $70,000,000 Pennsylvania turnpike between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, according to the Keystone Automobile Club.

Blasting human failures for the accidents, the club issued a bulletin warning drivers that while 70 miles an hour is the legal maximum speed on the highway, the average motorist should keep well below that figure.

"Very few drivers are equipped to drive at 70 miles an hour over any considerable mileage," said Edward P. Curran, club safety director.

"Then, too, the condition of the car and tires is a factor one should consider carefully before engaging in high speed operation."

Williams Hopes To Defeat Les Leasure

Runner-Up For National A. A. U. Middleweight Title Confident

ONE HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT ON CALENDAR

Punches will fly in all directions Wednesday night when 16 amateur gladiators square off in The Arena ring. The feature bout of the eight will find Chet Williams of Erie runner-up for the middleweight championship of the A. A. U. opposed by Les Leasure, this city's rough and ready battler who upset fistic dope in Youngstown recently by decisioning Williams. The first fight will begin at 8:30 p. m. and indications point to a big crowd.

Williams "waited" into Youngstown with a runner-up for the title reputation. To him, Leasure apparently was "just another fighter." However, the battle had not progressed far until Mr. Leasure's son Les, was out in front and when the grueling fight was over he received the decision.

Chet claimed he was not in condition, could do better if granted a return and argued loud and long for another match. Being a chap who doesn't say much but acts quickly, Les instructed the Jefferson A. C. to arrange a return fight.

Williams has been training hard at Erie. He realizes if he loses again Les will take Chet's role in Erie rings. Classy Russell Baxter, in good condition again, will take on Johnny Watson of Brownsville, at 155, in the semi-final and being anxious to atone for a recent defeat by a decision here Baxter yearns for a "kayo." However, Watson is expected to give Baxter plenty of trouble.

Frankie Moran fractured a finger while training with Benny Newkirk so Benjamin will face Jackie Burke of Vestaburg. This is a tough assignment for Newkirk but he believes that Burke is no harder puncher than some of the lads he has met. Burke is one of the best lightweight amateurs hereabouts.

The heavyweight tangle between Johnny Joyce of Youngstown and George Stenko, of Erie, in itself should be worth the time one cares to spend in The Arena, Wednesday night. Whenever two big fellows with a penchant to creep up the fistic ladder clash, there's bound to be action.

Guido Filigenza of this city, will take on some boy to be selected for him and Al Leasure will battle Bunny Misto of Youngstown. Tommy Komolo of Brownsville will box Danny Como of Grove City and Roy Robleskie of Erie will appear against Luther Harrison, one of Vestaburg's best 130 pounders.

Elders Have Party For Coulter-Rote

Two Members Of Elder Baseball Team Leave Soon For Army Induction

The Elder A. C. baseball team of the City League, gave a farewell party for two of their members who will leave soon for induction into the army—Paul Coulter and "Coke" Rote. The party in the form of a buffet lunch was held in Orr's hall last evening.

Following the serving of a delicious repast Manager Joe O'Leary introduced Charles "Bugs" Walther of The News who acted as toastmaster of the occasion. Three special guests of the Elders were called upon and gave excellent talks—William "Bill" Andrews, a veteran ball player and former sheriff, Michael "Jake" Babosky treasurer of the City Baseball League and Michael "Mike" Donovan, secretary of the City Baseball League.

Presented with Gifts Lefty Gibson in behalf of the Elder players and Jack Gerson presented Coulter and Rote with fine gifts that they can take to the army with them.

The following members of the Elder A. C. baseball team when called upon wished the two departing members all the luck and success in the world—"Red" Egan, Tommy Strausbaugh, Eddie "Home-Run" Todd, Lefty Gibson, Mickey Huff, John Kolik, Ducey Pruitt, Huck Davies, From the Elder A. C. committee—Joseph Eddy, chairman, Benny McCann and Ted Clark. Manager Joe O'Leary and Assistant Manager Frank "Jewie" Coen also spoke.

Other who spoke were D. C. Ritchie, local naval recruiting officer; groundskeeper, Roy Cooper; scorekeeper, Humpty Broadbent and scoreboard keeper, Kenny Newton, Paul Morrison, Scotty Morrison and Bob Maher. Also Mr. Wadlinger who leaves for the army soon with Rote and Coulter.

NO PASS DEFENSE Mentor Ray Morrison of Temple claims there is no defense against a forward pass if it is executed properly. Interceptions happen when there is an error in the offense, says Ray.

MORE NIGHT GAMES Connie Mack intends to bid for 14 night games in the American league in 1942 instead of the existing seven.

The west coast is the toughest, or maybe the screwiest, football precinct in the nation, so far as picking the outcomes are concerned. Oregon was top heavy favorite to dunk U. C. L. HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Rainfall of yesterday and today will do much toward preventing fires when the hunters go forth Saturday. According to reports reaching city hunters, game is plentiful. However, ringnecks are employing a technique which may not prove quite so good for the bird hunters. According to one crowd of hunters, the ringnecks have been zooming up before one can get within gun range. If this continues there'll be plenty of shooting but the bag will not be so large.

Fritz Zivic, former welterweight champion, will fight Ray Robinson New York's latest fistic sensation Friday night, in New York. Many Gotham shrewds have picked Sugar to win. Not so, Zivic, who reportedly has bet $500, on his chances. Should the Pittsburgher come through and his experience may help him considerably, the victory will go a long way toward forcing Red Cochrane, 147-pound champion to give the Pittsburgher a return whack at the crown.

Ten and one quarter million fans witnessed major league baseball games during the 1941 season. The Yankee attendance fell below normal. However, the Cards and Dodgers had increased attendance.

Oscar Vitt, former manager of Cleveland believes Frank O'Doul would make a good manager for the Indians and provide some color for the American league.

Here's news for a lot of would-be heavyweight champions: Joe Louis doesn't intend to retire. He believes he is too young. In fact, the Brown Bomber has no thought of quitting until he can't fight any more. Paul Brown, coach of Ohio State, has dismissed Charley Anderson, flashy end and who played three years at Massillon. Coach Brown refused to explain the dismissal. However, sources close to the situation, said the dismissal was due probably to a violation of training rules.

California Teachers has cancelled the three games remaining on their schedule because of injuries to players.

Merle (Pop Eye) Gibson has started a new stable here and has several amateur boxers who will appear in The Arena this winter. Merle was a rugged middleweight of Jolly Bowl days. Tomorrow night's pugilistic menu is flavored with a local relish. Les and Al Leasure, Russ Baxter, Benny Newkirk and Guido Filigenza are five of the 16 scrappers billed which shows there is a catering to New Castle boys.

Letter from Jimmy Dunn says he has been requested to return to Cleveland to handle some Forest City pros who are showing promise. He may do it if he does, will bring east with him some of the boys he has been handling in California. Local hunters are getting their shotguns ready for Saturday morning.

Shenango-Bessemer, 'Canes' Train Hard For Crucial Games

Lawrence County Class B Championship At Stake Here On Friday

NEW CASTLE BIDS FOR WPIAL CROWN

You can't name three teams in the nation which are training more diligently than New Castle high, Shenango Township and Bessemer. Shenango Township and Bessemer face each other on Shenango field Friday afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock for the county Class B championship. To each school, the handsome trophy is valued as much as the national championship is esteemed by such stalwarts as Minnesota, Texas, Fordham, Army, Texas A. & M., or any other collegiate bigwig.

"All Out Program" Represented by one of its gamest and most talented eleven in many seasons, Shenango Township has an "all out program" this week. Coach Frank Nocera is spending sleepless nights mapping out a design which he hopes will smash Bessemer's 8-year title reign.

The East New Castle backfield, which has been as well as speed, operates effectively behind a smooth functioning line. Mike Stoltz's kicking is unmatched in the local league. Andy Semansky ploughs through the line like an angered bull. Pete Moran and Majeski supply speed. Moran, particularly, packs lightning in those thin legs.

Bessemer Crippled Coach A. G. Capezutti today reported that his squad is "badly crippled." Rocco Gatto, the team's star kicker, is definitely out of the game, the Bessemer coach asserted. Gatto, suffering with a sprained ankle, saw action in one play Saturday and was forced to the sidelines.

Joe Simari, lineman, was kicked in the head in the Sciencetown battle and rushed to Jameson Memorial hospital for observation. He was not seriously hurt, however. Capezutti indicated that Simari will not play in Grubisa, who has been nursing a shoulder injury, did not play Saturday. Chances are he will see action in the big tilt. Bob Navarra, another classy performer, is bench chained by a knee injury.

Even if several of the aforementioned players see action, Bessemer will not be in top shape, the genial tutor reported.

Due to the rivalry and the prize at stake, the biggest gallery in the history of Shenango football will be on hand for the game. Shenango officials are making arrangements to accommodate the capacity gallery.

"Canes' Eye Title Their eyes glued on the Class AA WPIAL championship, New Castle high's unbeaten and untied gladiators are training like Trojans for their Friday evening clash with Scott of Braddock away from home. Triumphant in four Double A clashes, the local pigskin chasers must bag the approaching victory to remain in the title chase. A loss will crush all championship hopes.

In addition, the "Canes" put on the block one of the finest records in the district. To date, the Bridenbaughmen have won eight consecutive victories and haven't tasted defeat in the last 22 games, a 6-6 tie with Butler being the only blemish on an otherwise perfect mark.

Operating on all eleven, Union Township high takes on powerful Howland high Friday afternoon in the Ohio city. Coach Susko was pleased with the showing his proteges made against a strong Shenango team. The Scotlan' Laners held their crosstown rivals to a 6-6 tie. Union's squad is reported to be in good condition.

Titans Face Juniata Determined to get back on the winning column, Westminster college is gliding for Saturday's battle with Juniata, at New Wilmington. The Washabaugh-coached eleven gave an excellent account of itself before bowing before a crack Thiel team which is undefeated, untied and unscored upon. A big crowd is expected to watch the Titans in action.

Ellwood City high jaunts to New Brighton to battle a strong New Brighton high eleven, Saturday afternoon.

INJURED GRIDDER LEAVES HOSPITAL

Joseph Simari, of Hillsville, Bessemer high school gridder, who was slightly injured in Saturday's game with Sciencetown, when he was kicked in the head, sustaining a slight concussion, was able to leave the hospital Monday and return to his home.

NERVOUSNESS BLAMED

Billard Expert Ralph Greenleaf has an explanation for the lack of long runs in the opening rounds of the current world's cue tourney in Philadelphia. The boys are always nervous at the start of big contests declared Ralph, who could produce nothing better than a run of 32 in his first match.

GRID BUSINESS GOOD

Temple's first five 1941 games at home were good for a gate of 116,000, a gain of 21,000 over the 1940 total. By season's end the aggregate should hit 150,000. This year the Owls also increased their season-ticket holders to 11,000.

PLAYER SHORTAGE

The grapevine says the shortage of ice hockey players is due to the Canadian government, which won't let them out of that country.

Junior Hi Game Postponed Today

The Ben Franklin and George Washington junior high championship game scheduled for Thursday afternoon at Taggart Stadium has been postponed until a later date, due to the pneumonia attack that has stricken Coach Art Alexander of the Washington High team.

Greeks Planning Strong Quintet

St. George Greek Orthodox church basketball team, Class A champions of the New Castle Church Basketball League at the "Y" last season will be back on the hardwood court this year with a strong quintet, it was announced today by Coach Emmanuel "Manny" Othites. Steve Kakos will again act as business manager of the Greek quintet.

The Greeks will be without the services of their star guard Jim Poleno this season, the local well known sensational guard having been inducted into Uncle Sam's army several months ago.

Coach Othites has the following young men left as a nucleus for his team, "Cokey" Othites, Mickie Lucas, A. Lucas, Borovilos, Martin, and an effort is being made to sign up Mike Roussos, a young brother of the famous "Socks" Roussos for the center spot. Coach Othites is a fine forward and will help the team over the rough spots.

From the reserve team of last year Coach Othites will have in addition to the above mentioned, Hri-sodas and Demasikon, both of whom showed flashes last season. If developing into fine ball players Johnny Manos of the 1940-41 team is another member who has left to serve Uncle Sam's army, A. Lucas, on the first team for two years and another fine player, will leave soon, it is understood, for induction into the army.

TRICK TO STEALING

NEW YORK—There's a trick to base stealing in major league baseball. The National league's top base snatchers during the past season were Lonny Frey and Lee Handley. Pete Reiser and Johnny Rucker, however, were faster than either one of the leaders.

A crude form of hockey was probably known to the Greeks 500 B. C. About 1875 a game resembling the modern hockey began to be played. In 1886 the Hockey association was formed.

Convictions are products of the intellect; prejudices are solidified emotions.

New Castle-Altoona In Class AA Tie

Each Has 120 Points In Race, New Castle Must Defeat Scott Friday

Pennsy Planning Halloween Special Train, Interest In Battle Mounting

New Castle High school "Red Hurricane" finds itself tied with the powerful Altoona High eleven with 120 points apiece for the Class AA championship, it was revealed today. Next in line is the Johnstown "Johnnies" with 112½ points, followed by Turtle Creek, Connellsville and Mr. Lebanon.

New Castle must win Friday night at Scott High Braddock or be relegated to the also-rans column. Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh gave the boys a stiff workout on Monday afternoon. No scrimmage, but just brushing up on their passing and pass defense, as Scott High has a clever passer in Johnny Moyer the big fullback and a good pass receiver in Pete Manciaci.

Halloween Special Train

Interest in the coming game on Halloween night is mounting here with every passing hour. It will be New Castle's big chance for an undefeated and untied Class AA record, the first for the past few years. New Castle is definitely in the running and only Scott stands in the way.

The Pennsylvania railroad is planning a big halloween special train to Braddock, leaving the west side station at 5:45 o'clock. Passenger Agent Charles "Chuck" Wetmore is confident that upwards of 500 to 600 fans and students, and members of the New Castle High band will be on the special when she pulls out of Pa. News's domain.

Band Planning Drill

The New Castle High band is planning for a very clever drill at the Scott game between halves. The Scott High school officials are giving the band a lot of advertisement this week. It will be one of the finest bands that Scott High fans and students have ever seen. Is the way they put it in Braddock.

Tickets for the game are on sale at the Sporting Goods store for 35 cents (tax included) for adults and at the high school the student tickets will be 28 cents (tax included). There are no reserved seats in the Scott stadium. A section will however be reserved for the New Castle fans and students.

The special train will reach Braddock according to Mr. Wetmore.

about 7:30 o'clock, or about one-half hour before game time, thus giving the fans and students ample time to get tickets. The P. R. tracks are alongside the Scott stadium, and the special will be stopped almost at the gates of the field.

Church Managers To Meet Tonight

There will be a meeting at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock of all managers and officials of the New Castle Church Basketball League, it was announced by Physical Director Bill "Butch" Winters today.

All managers must have all contracts and other league data in their possession at the meeting. All rosters must be in by the time the meeting is over.

YES, SAHIB - IT WAS THE ONLY WAY - AND QUITE SIMPLE, REALLY -

HM-M--YES--IM SURE IT WAS--BY THE WAY--WHAT'S THAT NAME YOU WERE KNOWN BY, ASP?

ME? OH--THAT! WHY, SOMETIMES I HAVE BEEN REFERRED TO AS THE GRIM REAPER!

MORE SKELETONS! HUNDREDS OF THEM IN THIS CAVE! GAD! WHAT A BATTLE IT MUST HAVE BEEN--AND WHAT ODDS! INDIAN SLAVES WITH ONLY STONES AND CLUBS AGAINST SPANISH STEEL AND ARMOR--

MEN DO NOT COUNT THE ODDS WHEN THEY STRIVE FOR FREEDOM--ONLY COWARDS ACCEPT BONDAGE PEACEFULLY--
